

advanced  staging™

Everything you need for the meeting, all in one place.

Successful meetings are run by people who are prepared, regardless of the room's location and setup.

AdvancedStaging provides a virtual desktop for your internal work in progress and a presentation interface for meetings and conference calls. Using a web page creation template, you can add, delete and change items linked for download on the fly. At Polese Clancy, we use AdvancedStaging to share project information, design concepts and copy decks for our clients to download and review.

Protected by password (secure server optional), the tool comes with an administrative HTML form-based "page maker" that allows an administrator to add or update pages in the staging site. Staging can be implemented in your web site's look and feel, or in the look and feel of your respective customers and prospects.
